

Medical Education Grants paid by Pfizer in 2012 to UK Organisations, Associations and Institutions that are comprised of health professionals and /or that provide healthcare or conduct research

The ABPI Code of Practice requires that companies declare annually (starting in 2013 for payments made in 2012 calendar year) Medical Education Grants (MEGs) provided to healthcare organisations, institutions and associations comprised of healthcare professionals and / or that provide healthcare or conduct research. Companies are required to publish the financial amount provided and recipient institution. Pfizer is disclosing an additional level of detail to include a brief summary about each grant to provide context and make the data more meaningful to the general public. This is consistent with the format we follow for our disclosure of the support we provide to Patient Advocacy Groups. Pfizer is disclosing Medical Education Grants provided to UK healthcare organisations made by Pfizer UK, as well as payments made to UK healthcare organisations by overseas affiliates, our European brand teams and our New York head office.

The types of activities which are supported through MEGs are grants for which there is no specific benefit to Pfizer in return for providing the support. They are provided to healthcare organisations to either benefit patients or benefit the NHS, whilst maintaining patient care. Pfizer's involvement in providing MEGs is strictly limited to provision of the grant and projects supported by MEGs are not controlled in any way by Pfizer. MEGs must relate to continuing professional education, patient or community education or community projects that promote better healthcare (e.g. disease screening programmes).
